President Rushes Mexican Tour As Three Day Visit Nears End

MEXICO CITY, March 5 (U.P.)—President Truman made an aerial visit today to the volcano of Paricutin which was in actual eruption, sending streams of lava down the mountainside and filling the air with angry clouds of volcanic ash.

Nearing the close of his Mexican visit, the President made a 400 mile, two hours and 25 minute tour of the area around the volcano, which has covered a once-thriving valley with an ugly mantle of gray lava ash.

The President's private plane flew directly over the crater of the volcano which had erupted violently just a few hours before.

The "Sacred Cow," the President's private plane passed 2,500 feet over the crater.

The American chief executive looked down into the boiling cone as his plane banked around the huge column of white, ashy smoke which belched from the crater. A molten stream of lava oozed slowly down the side of the volcano.

Erupted Today

Paricutin first erupted in February, 1943, and the most recent eruption was at 1 a. m. (CST) today.

When he returned to Mexico City airport, the President was met by U. S. Ambassador Walter Thurston. They drove immediately to the pyramids of Teotihuacan where Mr. Truman was guest of honor at a picnic lunch attended by members of the Mexican cabinet headed by Foreign Secretary Jaime Torres Bodet and members of Mr. Truman's staff.

The President, whose popularity in Mexico City resulted in such crowds yesterday that one person was killed and 76 injured or suffered sunstrokes as they jammed up in an attempt to see him, was accompanied today only by members of his own party and Mexican officials.

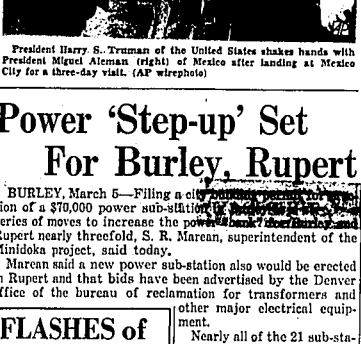

Stadium Jammed

Mr. Truman's popularity was evidenced yesterday as the national stadium where a colorful fiesta was held in his honor. Nearly twice as many persons crowded outside the stadium as were jammed inside. The place holds 25,000.

Throngs milling at the gates killed an elderly school teacher, Maria Sanchez Gonzalez, 60. Ana Maria Bogrego Viedra, 62, visiting Cuban journalist, was injured seriously.

Chinese Reds Lose 5,000 in Capital Drive

CHANGCHUN, March 5 (AP)—The government commander in Manchuria asserted today the communist offensive against Changchun was smashed, with 5,000 enemy dead on the battlefield and the rest in full retreat.

The commander, Gen. Tu Li-ming, told newsmen the blow was so severe that his troops could capture Harbin, the communist stronghold, within 10 days. He said, however, he had no orders to drive on north.

Version Told

General Tu gave this version of the operations, during which the communists were known to have pushed within 12 miles of Changchun, Manchuria's capital and, by Tu's account, the No. 1 objective:

This was the communists' spring offensive, which had been in the cards for six months.

Gen. Lin Piao, communist commander in Manchuria, had prepared 20 divisions, of which about 15 were committed.

Lin told his troops that if they fail to seize the bastion of Tehhwe, 52 miles northeast of Changchun, they must return to the north bank of the Sungari river, dividing line of the warring forces.

Crossed River

General Lin's troops crossed the Sungari and, while part of the force drove south toward Changchun, the main body was thrown against Tehhwe.

For seven days, during which the communists claimed 140,000 troops into the battle of Tehhwe, bloody fighting raged there a scant 15 miles south of the Sungari.

Tu by this time had rushed up two crack divisions, the 56th and 71st, from Mukden and Szepinkai and on Monday they broke the seige of Tehhwe. Five infantry and three artillery divisions were "routed."

Idahoans Warned On Spotted Fever

BOISE, March 5 (U.P.)—Spring can't be very far off. The state department of public health issued its seasonal warning today advising Idahoans to be immunized against rocky mountain spotted fever.

In addition the department recommended that persons now going into the hills or on the range wear smooth clothing tucked into shoes or boots and make twice daily inspections for ticks on the body. The disease is carried by the ticks.

The immunization vaccine is dispensed to physicians by state laboratories at Boise, Lewiston, Twin Falls, Pocatello and Coeur d'Alene.

That weather man is at it again, so you'd better dig out your galoshes.

The last time he said this area could expect "occasional light rain or snow" brought three inches of heavy, wet snow early Sunday morning. Now the forecast is repeated with a prediction for "small amounts of rain or snow by Saturday."

The complete forecast, as received via the Associated Press:

"Five-day weather forecast for Idaho, eastern Washington and eastern Oregon: Small amounts of rain or snow by Saturday. Temperatures slightly below normal with minimums about six degrees below normal Wednesday to Friday.

Power 'Step-up' Set For Burley, Rupert

BURLEY, March 5—Filing a city [illegible] tion of a $70,000 power sub-station at Burley and a series of moves to increase the power [illegible] Burley and Rupert nearly threefold, S. R. Marean, superintendent of the Minidoka project, said today.

Marean said a new power sub-station also would be erected in Rupert and that bids have been advertised by the Denver office of the bureau of reclamation for transformers and other major electrical equipment.

Nearly all of the 21 sub-stations on the project would be "stepped-up" in power in the move, he said.

Marean declared preliminary work on the power "step up" would begin before the end of the fiscal year but said it would be a year from next fall before most of the work can be completed. He explained it took about 18 months for a transformer to be made and delivered after the contract is let.

Increases Load

The project superintendent said the new power sub-station at Burley would be capable of handling a "bank" of 10,000 kilowatts and the Rupert station will handle 6,000 kilowatts. The present sub-stations handle 3,600 kilowatts and 2,400 kilowatts respectively.

Power equipment moved from the Burley and Rupert sub-stations would be transferred to power stations at Paul, Heyburn, Acequia and other communities on the project to increase their power facilities Marean said.

No "Dump" Rates

He commented that the increased power available would not be used for "dump" rates for heating purposes but would be sold at the commercial power rate.

"Subsequent power rates to retailers may be low enough to make electric heating feasible, but 'dump' rates for heating is a thing of the past," he said.

Marean explained special heating rates would not be provided towns

FLASHES of LIFE

NIGHTMARE

KELSO, Wash., March 5—Motorcycle Patrolman Marvin Bishop congratulated himself on escaping from a traffic accident without injury.

Then he went to bed and dreamed about the accident. He threw up an arm, toppled over a bedside lamp and lost a tooth when the lamp fell on him.

TIMELY

KANSAS CITY, March 5—When the new son born to Mrs. Jackie Kirkpatrick gets ready to celebrate his first birthday next March 4 he should have lots of help.

His mother's birthday is March 4, His grandmother, Mrs. Elberta Williams of Ogden, Utah, also has a March 4 birthday.

SURPRISED

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 5 — Don Robertson, Chicago salesman, told police on his arrival at headquarters with an overtime parking ticket that he was prepared to pay up to $15 fine and take the usual tongue-lashing "I get up north" in Chicago.

Police politely told him to put away his billfold. Because he had responded so promptly they told him he would have to pay only five cents —the amount he had forgotten to put in the parking meter.

Robertson was so surprised he paid the nickel and donated $10 to the policemen's pension fund.

Clark Gable Says He's Making Only $1,000 Clear Each Year

HOLLYWOOD, March 5 (U.P.) — Clark Gable, who gets a six-figure salary as a movie heart-breaker, disclosed today that it was a lucky year when he cleared more than $1,000 for himself.

He said he hadn't made that much in the last five years.

"With everything going up—taxes, expenses and my age—I don't expect to make that much again," he said.

Gable is still referred to as the "king" of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer lot, where his pictures have grossed $63,000,000. He understands he's paid $6,000 a week for his second post-war picture, "The Hucksters." But he isn't keeping it.

"A single man pays out almost 90 per cent of it for taxes right off the bat," he explained. "My agent gets 10 per cent. My business managers gets 2½ per cent. I have to pay for a housekeeper and a secretary." He figured it out on the back of his script and came out minus.

"That's why I have to pay a business manager," he grinned.

Gable wanted to make it clear that he wasn't complaining.

"I know I'm still a lucky guy," he said. "But people have the wrong idea about movie salaries. They think anybody who works in Hollywood is rolling in dough.

"That used to be true. The old-time stars made their money before taxes were high and some of them—like Mary Pickford and Charlie Chaplin and Harold Lloyd—hung on to it. That kind of money just isn't around anymore.

"One thousand dollars a year isn't an awful lot to save up to retire on," he said. "I don't know what I'm going to do.

"They've got a mighty nice place out at the motion picture relief home for old actors. I've been contributing to it regularly. You never can tell."

Marshall Doubting 'Success'

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP) — Secretary of State Marshall left today for the big four foreign ministers meeting in Moscow, openly expressing doubt that a peace treaty for Germany can be written there.

He forecast success, however, for a second aim of the momentous gathering—the drafting of a peace agreement for Austria.

Still Disagree

Preliminary talks have laid the groundwork for an Austrian accord. But Marshall said the big four—France, Russia, Great Britain and the United States—are still in disagreement on the fundamentals of a German treaty.

This preview of the Moscow meeting was given reporters just before Marshall's plane took off at 7:11 a. m., MST. The secretary added in a dictated statement:

"If we are successful in reaching agreements on major fundamental principles I would be very much pleased."

Difficulty Expected

In any event, Marshall said, he is conscious that the negotiations will be "extremely difficult and their consequences momentous."

Marshall was accompanied by Benjamin B. Cohen, state department councilor and Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen, Russian expert and interpreter.

A second plane carried several top advisers, including John Foster Dulles, Republican foreign affairs expert.

Aboard a third plane in the party were 11 news and radio correspondents.

British Face New Violence In Jerusalem

JERUSALEM, March 5 (AP) — A bomb explosion destroyed a government assessment office and a guarding gun emplacement in Haifa today.

The fresh outbreak of violence followed by a few hours a theater holdup in the heart of Jerusalem.

The explosive was planted in a [illegible] park adjoining the gov[illegible] installations. Guards saw [illegible] short time before it [illegible] and diverted traffic from [illegible] government announcement said there were no casualties. Two private homes were slightly damaged.

Haifa is the port from which the British have been deporting unc[illegible] Jewish immigrants to Cyprus.

Three men held up the cashier of a motion picture theater in downtown Jerusalem and escaped with $500, touching off a flurry of military activity.

Shrilling sirens sent British armored cars racing through the streets, security barriers were closed, all traffic halted and troops rushed to guard posts in strategic areas.

Police said the robbers were three young Jews armed with revolvers," who drove up to the Orion theater in the heart of the modern Jewish quarter.

The Jerusalem high court meanwhile announced that it had rejected a plea for a writ of habeas corpus to prevent the deportation of 378 unidentified Jews. The writ grants who were seized aboard a refugee ship off the Palestine coast last week.

Lad, 8, Misses Night at Home, Scares Mother

"What's mama crying about?" Garry Rodabaugh, 8, wanted to know when he arrived at Lincoln school Wednesday morning. He was entirely undisturbed by the anxiety created by his unannounced overnight's stay at a friend's home.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rodabaugh, who live north of Twin Falls, had called upon city and county officers Tuesday night to join in the search for their small son when he failed to come home from school in the afternoon.

When he was still missing Wednesday morning, his mother went to Lincoln school to question his playmates regarding his disappearance. She was on the school grounds when the boy arrived. He couldn't fathom the tears of his distraught mother.

For Garry, visiting a friend overnight without telling anyone about it seemed perfectly normal.

Best Man Caught In Own Handcuffs

SALT LAKE CITY, March 5 (AP)—A Salt Lake City couple got married on schedule last night but it was a near miss.

The best man, brother of the groom, had figured out quite a trick —kidnaping of the bride using a pair of handcuffs. But while he was toying with the handcuffs, the best man locked them on his own wrist and couldn't get them off.

He hurried to the police station where officers first demanded an explanation, then informed him the bracelets were of an obsolete type needing a special key. After a thorough search a key was found, the best man released just in time for the wedding march.

Education Bill Hits Snag In Senate; Liquor, Slot Measures up to Governor

BOISE, March 5 (AP)—Proponents of educational measures stemming from the Peabody survey ran into stiff senate opposition today when the upper body, which has endorsed all major school legislation during the 29th session, disapproved the first of a series of resolutions proposing to remove the state superintendent of public instruction as an elective official.

The senate by a vote of 22-20 failed to provide the necessary two-thirds margin required to pass the resolution. The measure called for a constitutional amendment removing the state superintendent as a member of the state board of land commissioners and was, Sen. E. J. Soelberg, R., Butte, said, the forerunner of a series of resolutions proposing to take the state and county school superintendents off bi-partisan election ballots.

While the senate swept through its calendar this morning, the house was at a virtual standstill while Republican leaders met in secret session to sift through bills now before the lower chamber.

Rumblings in the house over senate failure to start action on an Idaho racing act to permit parimutuel betting on horse racing were quieted today when the senate state affairs committee moved the measure out for first reading.

The upper chamber passed 34-8 a "school transportation" act as suggested by the Peabody report providing overall supervision of transportation in the various districts by the state board of education. The remaining educational resolutions were held in abeyance.

Nearing Adjournment

The shadow of adjournment hung over both houses of the legislature today as the two bodies rushed to complete necessary business and the state awaited Gov. C. A. Robins' disposal of measures authorizing the operation of slot machines and the serving of liquor by the drink in incorporated cities and villages.

The senate held the first night session of the 29th legislature last night in an effort to complete action on several matters before the scheduled adjournment tomorrow.

The beer tax measure would increase the levy from $1.55 to $3.10 per barrel. The other revenue measure hikes the cigarette tax from two to three cents a pack. Both measures were passed along to the governor.

Consider 10 Bills

During the late night session, the senate considered 10 bills, giving unanimous approval to a measure appropriating $45,000 to provide the governor with an official residence. The measure calls for $35,000 for the purchase of the Ralph York home in north Boise, $10,000 for furniture and equipment and $10,000 for maintenance.

Two previous sessions of the legislature had defeated bills proposing a party convention system of nominating candidates.

Sen. Ray Mitchell, D., Lewiston, argued unsuccessfully last night that the convention system would give the people "more say" and "would lead to better candidates."

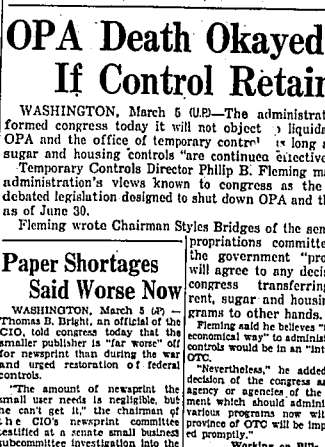

On the opposite side was Sen. Glenn Bandelin, D., Bonner, who said "if the primary is lost, the politicians and not the people will run the state."

Resolution Submitted

A resolution calling for a general election vote on a constitutional amendment outlawing the closed shop in Idaho was presented in the senate yesterday. A similar resolution was defeated in the house earlier.

The senate, meantime, gave its approval to measures which would authorize organization of county boards of education, extend the powers and duties of class "A" school districts and authorize sick and accumulative leave for teachers. At the same time, the house okayed a measure requiring that instructors in public schools be certified.

Russian Sees Monopoly on Atom in U. S.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 5 (AP) — Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko charged today that one nation, apparently the United States, is trying to establish a monopoly on atomic energy.

Reading in English from a 20-page manuscript, Gromyko said there had been little comment in the United Nations security council on Russia's proposals for a convention to abolish atomic weapons now and a later convention to set up controls and safeguards for peaceful use of atomic energy.

Listen Closely

The delegates listened closely to Gromyko's slowly spoken delivery of a statement hailed in advance as a major policy speech.

The Soviet delegate did not name the country but there was little doubt he referred to the United States, with which Russia has differed over the proper atomic controls.

He said Russia considered an immediate ban on atomic bombs must be enacted.

Stumbling Block

He said the only stumbling block was one country which, he charged, wanted to impose its views on other nations. He then noted that the United States was opposed to a Russian proposal for a convention immediately outlawing the bomb.

The Russian noted especially that there had been little comment in the security council on Russia's plan for atomic control, put forward first last June and advanced again last month as proposed amendments to a report of the United Nations atomic energy commission. This report contained the essentials of the United States plan for [illegible]

Goodin[illegible] Grade School Plan Finances

GOODING, March 5—The Gooding school district's application to the federal works agency for $8,000 for planning and architectural fees for the construction of a new 600 pupil grade school building has been approved, R. M. Robertson, chairman of the board, was notified Wednesday by Sens. Glen H. Taylor and Henry C. Dworshak.

Robertson explained the $8,000 was being put up by the federal government to cover architectural fees and that if plans for the building go through the money will be repaid through the bond issue.

We haven't requested a bond issue for the grade school building yet as we are waiting for construction costs to go down somewhat," Robertson said. "However, we do need a new grade school building."

He said tentative plans call for a grade school building to replace the present Lincoln grade school. He

Hawaii Statehood Plan Gets Favor

WASHINGTON, March 5 (U.P.) — Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug and two California congressmen said today they were "unanimous" in favor of immediate statehood for Hawaii.

Krug and Reps. Clare Engle, R., Calif., and Norris Poulson, R., Calif., returned here today after a two weeks tour of the Pacific.

They said they were in favor of early civil government for other Pacific islands held by this country.

They said Hawaii should receive statehood as soon as possible because the islands 500,000 inhabitants are "good, solid American citizens."

OPA Death Okayed If Control Retained

WASHINGTON, March 5 (U.P.)—The administration informed congress today it will not object to liquidation of OPA and the office of temporary controls as long as rent, sugar and housing controls "are continued effectively."

Temporary Controls Director Philip B. Fleming made the administration's views known to congress as the senate debated legislation designed to shut down OPA and the OTC as of June 30.

Fleming wrote Chairman Styles Bridges of the senate appropriations committee that the government "promptly" will agree to any decision by congress transferring the rent, sugar and housing programs to other hands.

Fleming said he believes "the most economical way" to administer these controls would be in an "integrated" OTC.

"Nevertheless," he added, "any decision of the congress as to the agency or agencies of the government which should administer the various programs now within the province of OTC will be implemented promptly."

Working on Bills

Two senate banking subcommittees are working on legislation which would transfer sugar and rents away from OPA.

One group is studying a bill to continue sugar controls until March 31, 1948, but transfer them to the agriculture department.

Another earlier today put finishing touches on a measure that would continue rent controls, with a 10 per cent rent boost, until Dec. 31, 1947, and vest enforcement in the courts.

Not Concerned

"I wish to make it very clear," Fleming advised Bridges, "that the liquidation of OPA, CPA or OTC is not the question that concerns me."

"What does deeply concern me is that the congress appropriate sufficient funds to enable the substantive programs to be continued effectively until the congress itself decides what it wants to do with them, and who will administer them."

HOPE FADING

NORDEN, Calif., March 5 (AP)—Hope for the survival of a missing skier in the high Sierra snows faded today and fears increased that he was the victim of an avalanche. Four army planes, a snow machine and 20 skiers searched without success for Grant E. Cox, 25, army veteran who has been missing since Sunday night.

Paper Shortages Said Worse Now

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP) — Thomas B. Bright, an official of the CIO, told congress today that the smaller publisher is "far worse" off for newsprint than during the war and urged restoration of federal controls.

"The amount of newsprint the small user needs is negligible, but he can't get it," the chairman of the CIO's newsprint committee testified at a senate small business subcommittee investigation into the newsprint shortage.

Wright contended that the "commercial press"—not further identified—monopolized the supply of newsprint, the paper on which newspapers are printed.

Solons Appropriate Largest Budget in History of State

BOISE, March 5 (U.P.)—The Idaho legislature will appropriate from the general fund the startling sum of nearly $32,500,000 it was estimated today by Budget Director Al Reading. He arrived at the total after adding up all measures which provide appropriations and there are many of them.

The sum is $12,000,000 higher than appropriated by the 1945 regular and special sessions. It is $9,500,000 higher than the $13,000,000 budget for the 1943-44 fiscal biennium. It is the highest budget ever contemplated in the state's history.

To finance it, the state will use up all of the $5,000,000 surplus. The legislature will have to impose a $4,000,000 property tax, which calls for an ad valorem levy of about 4.75 mills, and impose vice taxes bringing in at least $3,000,000 for the next biennium. It is estimated that regular sources of revenue will bring in slightly in excess of $19,000,000. In other words, this legislature will barely balance the budget and cannot contemplate any surplus like that which piled up in the last six years.

Education and public assistance will eat up the great percentage of the budget. Common schools will take $8,000,000, public assistance in excess of $8,500,000 and higher education nearly $4,500,000, not counting the emergency appropriation to next June 30. The remainder of the appropriations are spread out to the state administrative departments and to other institutions like the mental hospitals. The state prison will receive expanded appropriations.

There are many small appropriations including $45,000 for a governor's residence, $50,000 to move buildings from the Rupert prisoner of war camp to Gooding, $25,000 for judge's retirement.

25 Die in Fights In Indian Region

LAHORE, India, March 5 (AP) — Sikhs and Hindus fought Moslems in the old walled section of this capital city of the Punjab again today, and the two-day death toll mounted to at least 25.

Troops helped Lahore police, who fired on the rioters several times, in efforts to restore order. Shops were set afire in the Lahore bullion market. Rioters and the police were reported to have [illegible] fire in another sector. A bank in the old city was reported unofficially to have been looted.

Master Tara Singh, a Sikh leader, appealed to a meeting of 4,000 Sikhs to adhere to non-violence.

"We haven't got arms for a movement," he said. "If the government commands it, we will have to resort to tactics."

Canada, U. S. Slate Station In Far North

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP) — The uninhabited rim of the North American continent, a vast blind spot for weathermen and military strategists, soon will be manned by watchers of the United States and Canada.

The project, officially disclosed in Ottawa and Washington, involves the joint establishment of nine new weather stations in Canadian territory.

It is part of the recently announced plan to continue the wartime collaboration of the two nations by exchanging information, personnel and facilities for "peacetime joint security purposes."

Location Told

At least two of the new stations will be in the far north, one on Ellamere island, 600 miles from the north pole, another to the westward on Melville island.

These, with the other outposts in the chain to the southward, will fill in a blank area between weather stations maintained by the United States in Alaska and one at Thule, in Greenland.

The Ellamere and Melville island stations are expected to be completed and manned this summer.

Advantages Listed

Officials of the two governments confined their public announcement yesterday to the advantages of improving the weather reporting system. But strategists noted the prominent military value of constantly manned installations athwart the air routes over the polar cap.

It was recalled that United States army and navy weather experts some months ago instituted a system of using radar for spotting and tracking storm areas. Radar's most common use is in the detection and tracking of aircraft.

An inkling of the extensive weather and general air reconnaissance already attempted in the north was given recently when a United States army air force B-29, based in Alaska, was forced down in Greenland.

Dr. Parkinson's Rites Conducted

Funeral services for Dr. George T. Parkinson were conducted Tuesday afternoon in the chapel of the second ward LDS church by Bishop G. K. Hogan. Speakers were Joseph E. Cordon, Logan, Utah, and John W. Wright, Buhl, head of the state department of health.

A women's chorus sang two numbers under the direction of Mrs. Claude Brown, accompanied by Mrs. Darrell Moss, and Sterling C. Larsen offered a vocal solo. Dr. O. T. Luke gave the benediction, and the grave in the Sunset memorial park was dedicated by Bishop J. C. Fredericksen.

Damage Suit For Injuries Before Jury

A 12-man jury, selected Wednesday morning, heard Jay H. Johnson testify just before the noon recess as his $29,400 damage suit against Harrison Griffith, opened in district court with Judge James W. Porter presiding. The trial was scheduled to continue this afternoon.

Johnson's suit is based upon permanent injuries claimed received when he was struck by a team-drawn skid on Oct. 12, 1944. He charges he was assisting Griffith, his employer, in harvesting clover when he was hit by the skid pulled by a run-away team.

Johnson contends the mishap resulted because Griffith had neglected to fasten the horses or remain close enough to control them. The team had been borrowed from a neighbor.

Earl E. Walker is attorney for Johnson and James R. Bothwell represents Griffith.

Jurors hearing the case are: Twin Falls—C. B. Burkholder, Walter D. Smith, Laura Wilcox, Mrs. C. E. Lancaster, Mrs. H. T. Blake, R. F. Potter, Charles Greive and Lee Leichliter; Buhl—Henry Jacobsen; Kimberly—P. E. White and Mrs. Henry Champlin; and Rogerson—Elvie H. Berry.

other than Burley and Rupert and that their special heating rates will be discontinued in 1951 when their contract expires.

The project superintendent foresees financial difficulties arising in the power expansion plan, however. He pointed out that cost estimates were made from six to 18 months ago on the plan and that since then the costs are going up and an economy-minded congress is in power.

The sub-station in Burley will be erected behind the present unit on north Albion avenue. Marean said some of the structural steel for the unit had been purchased already.

CARE Response Brings Another German Letter

As the result of an article appearing in the Times-News at Christmas time for CARE boxes to be sent to Europe, more requests from overseas have been received by a local family.

Additional articles have been requested by Hedy Moisal in a letter to the Twin Falls family. She asks for shirts, neckties and a typewriter ribbon.

Anyone in Twin Falls county wishing to send the articles must address the outside of a package sent to Thomas J. Fey, war relief service, NCWC, internal affairs division, USFA, APO 777, %Postmaster New York, N. Y., and on the inside to Hedy Moisal, Klosterneuberg bei Wien, Martinstrasse 40, Austria. If a package is larger than postal requirements it must be addressed to war relief services national Catholic welfare conference, 350 Fifth avenue New York 1, N. Y. There must also be an inside address to Mrs. Moisal.

Traffic Fines

Two dollars, or double the usual fine, was paid for each of three overtime parking tickets accumulated by L. Sonntag. He also was fined $1 for a recent offense to bring the number of overtime parking violators near the two dozen mark as 22 others paid fines in municipal court.

Fines of $10 and costs of $3 were paid by Audrey R. MacQuirey and L. O. Schneider for stop sign violations. Glenn Andrews, Thomas W. Driscoll and Paul Bishop each paid $2 for overtime parking in the 10-minute post office zone.

Paying the dollar overtime parking fines were Sterling Lemon, Lee Mathers, Mrs. Grant Padget, Keith Coleman, Charles Sieber, Elmer Peters, Milan Fillmore, James R. Smyth, Dick Bailey, C. L. Smith, Lorin Hoskins, Harold Cook, D. E. Ferrel, Mrs. Norris Stettler, O. S. Butler, D. B. Stayner, Walter J. Bitton and Mrs. Chester Jarvis.

Husband to Be Sold," Wife Asks Divorce

Filing a suit for divorce Tuesday, Evelyn Heard charged her husband, H. H. Heard, with treating her in a cruel and inhuman manner.

Her complaint describes his regard of her as cold and disagreeable. She also alleges that he failed to write to her while he was in California several times visiting his former wife and children, and that he again failed to write her while she was in a Fallon, Nev., hospital for a period of more than five days.

The couple has entered into a written agreement for the settlement of their property. They married on March 14, 1939 at Gardnerville, Nev., and have no children. Mrs. Heard's attorney is Edward Babcock.

Solon Says U. S. May Use Troops To Fill Pledges

WASHINGTON, March 5 (UP) — Sen. Carl A. Hatch, D., N. M., said today it was "entirely possible" that the United States would be faced with an urgent request to undertake new commitments in Greece.

Hatch, a member of the senate foreign relations committee, said the possibility that troops would be needed in some areas was not "an exaggerated view—it is something the American people should understand."

He and several other senators demanded that congress and the public be given the "full story" behind Britain's request for American financial and economic aid to Greece. Hatch said it might be well for President Truman to discuss the matter in a nationwide radio address.

One Son to Get Rogers Estate

Estate of Minnie B. Rogers, who died Dec. 23, 1945, would have been split seven ways if six of her seven children had not conveyed their interest to their brother, Jasper P. Rogers.

The decree of distribution recorded Tuesday at the courthouse cited the assignment of interests, gave all of the estate to the one son. A lot in McCollum addition, Buhl, household furniture, dental instruments, and war savings bonds compose the property left by Mrs. Rogers.

Her other children are Katie M., Byran E., Mattie L. and James A. Rogers, Myrtle E. Sandholtz, and Florence M. Dwyer.

Halsey Retired Over Disability

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP) — Fleet Adm. William F. Halsey, 64, was retired from the naval service March 1 because of physical disability, the navy announced today.

The navy's announcement said nothing as to the nature of his disability.

In retirement, the famous wartime commander of the third fleet will receive the same pay and allowances, $15,780 a year, as when on active duty.

New Plan Speeds On-Job Program Start for Vets

Substantial reduction of the time between receipt of veterans' applications for on-the-job training and actual start of training and receipt of subsistence allowance payments was announced Wednesday by W. C. Nuzman, contact representative at the Twin Falls veterans' administration office.

The new procedure to expedite this process for World war II veterans was put into operation throughout Idaho this week, the official said.

Instructions have been issued to all VA field offices to complete applications for training forms and to aid the trainee's employer in completion of forms necessary for him to enter the veteran in training at once without sending any of the preliminary paper work to the regional office, as has been the practice before.

The contact representative is the veterans' administration official whom the veteran sees first when he decides to enter into on-the-job training. All preliminary work is immediately completed by this official. The veteran is then taken to the training officer who completes the balance of the paper work and then calls upon the trainee's proposed employer to complete the arrangements.

Mailing of subsistence checks has also been speeded up, although the new plan does not affect procedure followed where a veteran enters a school or institution, as all paper work can be completed there more promptly.

DAR Bid for Heat Opposed In Committee

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—The DAR wants to heat its Constitution hall with government steam, and at least one organization is pretty steamed up about it.

Mrs. C. Leslie Glenn, of the committee for Racial Democracy in the Nation's Capital, said today the DAR "has repeatedly refused to allow Negro artists to engage Constitution hall."

Her proposal:

No government steam for the DAR until it establishes "a clear policy of non-discrimination."

Bill Approved

In spite of Mrs. Glenn's protests, the public works subcommittee wound up the hearing by approving unanimously a bill by Representative McGregor, R., Ohio.

The bill would permit the DAR to hook on to the governmental central heating plant. The DAR would pay for the installation ($28,000) and for the steam it needs.

Representative Arnold, R., Mo., wondered if the Daughters of the American Revolution pay their bills promptly.

Indeed they do, said Harold Maynard, who supervises the DAR building and grounds.

Wealthy, Too

"These lovely ladies," as he called the 250,000 DAR members, are wealthy ladies, too.

Their property here, he said, is worth $7,000,000. He said no other women's group in the world owns such valuable buildings.

Although the bill passed the subcommittee without a dissenting vote, it may run into trouble when it reaches the house floor.

For Representative Powell, D., N.Y., is the husband of Hazel Scott, a pianist. Turned down were their requests to rent the hall for commercial concerts. But Miss Anderson was allowed to sing there for charity in 1943.

Move to Caldwell

CAREY, March 5—Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Swinney and family have moved to Caldwell from their home south of Carey. Their ranch has been purchased by Lloyd, Henry and Junior Jones, who will move here soon.

Shirley Swinney, high school junior, is staying at the Blaine Phillips home until the Carey school year ends.

Ghost Town Purchaser up to His Neck in Mail Proposals

BOISE, March 5 (AP) — Earl T. Scott, World war II veteran who bought the ghost mining town of Dixie, Ida., wrote the veterans administration that he is up to his ears in proposals of various kinds and "they're still coming in at the rate of 20 or more in every mail."

Scott's as a result of the nationwide publicity in buying the town has received proposals of marriage from alluring young blondes able and willing to pay their own way west, proposals that the deserted saloon he acquired be turned into a church, offers of dude ranchers, farmers, miners, public relations men and hundreds of others.

"One 27-year-old blond from Chicago wants to know if I am an eligible bachelor. If so, she will be glad to send a picture and has the money to come on out if she is welcome," Scott's letter said, "and that's when my wife started reading the letters for me. One athletic coach from New York suggests starting an Earl Scott college in Dixie with him as the athletic instructor. He says he has the wherewithal to make the college a success.

"Another from somewhere in Virginia has a new 40-passenger bus, he wants to sell out and move to Dixie to haul dudes. He can't leave until May which is a good thing. The snow up here right now is about six feet deep. Public relations men, farmers, dude wranglers, discontented divorcees want to get away from it all. The letters keep pouring in. First it was four, then it was 22 and now they're coming in at the increased rate of about 20 in each mail.

"And today I got a letter from a minister in Pennsylvania and he wants to come out, buy the old saloon here and open a church. What I need is a corps of stenographers to answer my mail. And I thought we were going to have a quiet winter up here."

His Handicap Doesn't Faze Armless Boy

SAN MATEO, Calif., March 5 (AP) —He's never had any arms—yet 12-year-old James Kenney doesn't consider himself different from other children.

Neither do the Holy Cross sisters at St. Matthews school where he is an eighth grade student.

Jimmy can turn the pages of a book or take the regular class spelling dictation with his foot. Keeps right up with the class, too, his teachers tell you proudly.

Jimmy was born without arms. His shoulders just came to an abrupt end.

"It makes it almost impossible for him to balance," his mother, Mrs. Lionel Kenney explained. "He couldn't learn to walk until he learned to sit down."

"Put your shoes on, Jimmy. When I think of your asthma," she stopped, then added, "of course, he has to do everything with his feet, but when he runs out on the wet grass, well . . ."

Jimmy can do practically everything with his feet. He uses his chin now and again to ring a doorbell or turn a doorknob. But usually for fingers, Jimmy uses his flexible toes.

Slipping his feet out of soft moccasins, he picked up a fountain pen with his toes. Holding it firmly with one foot, he unscrewed the pen with the other. A southpaw, he uses his left foot to write. He wears his watch on an ankle.

Jimmy isn't the least shy of his handicap. In fact, he is happy to demonstrate his unusual accomplishments, particularly when it means an extra dish of ice cream—in his life of second importance only to the Southern Pacific railroad.

He is a walking encyclopedia as to any train passing through. Station attendants say even the engineers will concede that they are half a minute slow if Jimmy says so.

Jerome's Legion Set for Carnival

JEROME, March 5—The Jerome post of the American Legion will hold a "49er" carnival at 8 p. m. Saturday at the Legion hall.

Dan Rogers is chairman of the committee and is assisted by John Halverson, Gus Callen and George Blackwell.

Humorous Talks Given at Grange

FILER, March 5—Filer Grange members at a recent meeting presented a mixed program of group singing and short humorous talks on various subjects.

The program included speeches by men on what they have for dinner when their wives are away, a talk by Mrs. Tom Timbers on whether or not it pays for farmers to raise chickens, talks by Mrs. J. H. Sharp and Mrs. Herbert Stroud on "the funniest thing I ever saw," explanations of embarassing moments by Paul Nash and Mrs. Raymond Thomas and a talk by Earl Ebersole on why water remains in a bucket when it is twirled.

Jimmy was born without arms. His shoulders just came to an abrupt end.

Mrs. Edward Sharp gave her opinion on the house-to-house peddler and Clyde Van Audelis and C. O. Thomas told why they were glad spring was here. J. H. Sharp won a button sewing contest.

Jerome Lutheran Church to Hear Talk on Europe

JEROME, March 5 — The Rev. Walter C. Daib, Lutheran church's representative in Europe, will address the Jerome St. Paul Lutheran church congregation at 11 a. m. Sunday.

He will speak on "Germany and Europe Today" and will illustrate his lecture with moving pictures. The pictures cover scenes in Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Finland, Belgium and Switzerland, all visited by the Rev. Mr. Daib in the past six months.

He will address the Trinity Lutheran church in Clover at 3 p.m. Sunday.

Rev. Griffin to Be Filer Pastor

FILER, March 5—The Rev. Clarence Griffin, Twin Falls, has accepted a call to become pastor of the Filer Church of the Nazarene, according to the Rev. Mackey J. Brown, Twin Falls, Idaho-Oregon district Nazarene reporter.

The Rev. and Mrs. Griffin and their two children, Jarette and John, came here from Escondido, Calif. The Rev. Mr. Griffin has been substituting as pastor since January when the Rev. Edward Haldy resigned because of ill health. The Rev. and Mrs. Haldy and son have moved to Corvallis, Ore.

Buchanan Traces School's Growth For Jerome Club

JEROME, March 4—J. E. Buchanan, president of the University of Idaho, traced the development and growth of that institution during the past few years before an interested audience of Rotarians at their regular meeting Tuesday noon.

Buchanan said that one of the greatest factors in the growth of the institution is the return of veterans and their families. This is in keeping, he said, with the pattern observed in years following major wars. Buchanan predicted the immediate postwar increase of enrollment will continue for a number of years.

Describing the problems faced by the university as a result of its rapid postwar growth, Buchanan emphasized the shortage of housing, classroom space and instructors. He praised the returned veterans, saying that they are much more serious than the younger students of previous years.

LEGISLATING AGAINST SUBVERSION

A Washington dispatch brings some encouraging news about the house un-American activities committee.

Its chairman, J. Parnell Thomas, wants to put the group on a more businessilke basis. Thorough, quiet investigations followed by public hearings, when warranted, would be the new rule.

Mr. Thomas and his colleagues also are preparing eight bills designed to curb subversive activities in the government, labor unions and other organizations.

One proposal would farm out some of the committee's present activities to other agencies. According to reports, the bills would set up a new justice department division to prosecute subversive elements now operating, and create an independent commission which could investigate and order the dismissal of any government employe whose loyalty was in doubt.

Other provisions would deport communist and other subversive aliens, and end tax exemptions for Red-front "educational" and "relief" groups.

So far, so good. This committee in the past has cloaked itself with much authority without covering itself with much glory. It certainly seems a good idea to delegate some of that authority to more legally constituted and, perhaps, less hysterical agencies. As for the taxation and deportations, it probably has become necessary to start bestowing our much-abused freedoms in a somewhat less openhanded manner.

Other aspects of the proposed legislation seem less promising. One of these would permit only United States citizens to be employed by the government or hold office in labor unions. Such a provision would not solve the problem of domestic communism. The American communist party would not fall apart if its allen members were deported or forbidden to hold office.

Further, such a provision would not hinder or embarrass the Klan, the Columbians, and their like. And finally, this insistence on citizenship as a requisite for job- or office-holding implies that foreign birth in itself is suspect.

The proposed legislation continues the committee's preoccupation with the left wing of subversion. We hope that when congress comes to consider these bills, it will not forget the other extreme.

That extreme was highlighted in the Atlanta trial of Homer Loomis, Jr., the Columbians' official-found guilty of incitement to riot. The defendant boldly proclaimed to the court his program for deporting all Negroes to Africa and deporting all Jews or forcing their assimilation with other races—all in the name of "the white working man." The senior Loomis, who was his son's counsel, addressed the jurors as "my fair-skinned brothers," and had the sacrilegious gall to say his son was being "crucified like Christ by the Jews."

This type of "American" thinking represents a movement that merits some attention, too.

The author and publishers of a new biography of Serge Koussevitzky, conductor of the Boston Symphony orchestra, have been sued for libel by Koussevitzky. The conductor has also asked a court injunction against publication and distribution of the book (which he says is unauthorized) on the grounds that the text and photographs are an invasion of his privacy. His lawyers have advised newspapers that they would publish reviews at their "peril and risk."

This injunction, if granted and upheld, would create an alarming precedent. Anyone might be immune to all but personally-authorized publicity. If a musician, why not also lawyers, judges, political bosses, congressmen, Presidents?

We hope that Doctor Koussevitzky, whose artistic eminence makes him something of a public figure, will accept the annoyances as well as the advantages of his position and reconsider his legal action.

TOWARD PEACE BY LAW

Lawyers from 32 nations last week formed the International Bar association. Their first goal is to affiliate with the United Nations and assist it, in a consultative capacity, with the legal aspects of international co-operation.

In general the group's program seems to be aimed at simplifying and unifying some basic procedures, and at offering world citizens protection from certain inequities.

This appears to be another step toward international maintenance of peace and justice by law rather than by treaty. The concept of a legal world authority over these vital matters is gaining strength.

The growth of this concept is perhaps one of the most hopeful aspects of the United Nations' brief history. So long as it continues the UN's difficulties seem less discouraging.

Nowhere is where drivers are usually going when they seem to want to get there quickest.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

PURPOSES—President Truman's election eve intervention in the Palestine problem, which was designed to elect the Mead-Lehman ticket in the state of New York in 1946, is not the first time that the administration at Washington has tried to capitalize on this international issue for local ballot-box purposes.

In 1944, when Sen. Robert F. Wagner of New York thought that he might have difficulty in scraping through, he persuaded FDR to write him a letter promising American support for a Jewish homeland in Palestine. It is believed that this document won enough wavering votes to reelect Mr. Wagner.

Ray Tucker

Subsequently, it developed that the late President Roosevelt, at the very moment that he was assuring Senator Wagner of his sympathy for a Jewish refuge in Palestine, told King Ibn Saud of Arabia that there would be no final solution of the Palestine problem without his prior approval.

That, of course, meant that there could be no equitable solution, at least no settlement that would benefit the Zionists.

• • •

DESPERATE—However, the 1944 Roosevelt pledge won votes for FDR and for Democratic congressional candidates who were thus carried weight in certain metropolitan areas—New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Illinois and other middle western states.

President Truman, then under the Roosevelitan spell, reacted to the same political technique last October when he got word that the Mead-Lehman ticket in New York was in desperate straits.

Succumbing to the political advice of National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan and a few leftist labor leaders, he voiced a demand for an annual inflow of 100,000 Jews to Palestine, which ruined any chance of a British-Jew-Arab agreement, according to Prime Minister Bevin.

It is doubtful if President Truman would make the same mistake again.

He and Secretary of State Marshall now realize that, in our diplomatic and economic conflict with Moscow, we must back up London in Palestine, in India, in Canada and wherever the empire's safety is endangered.

REGRETS—Washington, and possibly Prime Minister Bevin himself, regrets his outburst and his naked revelation on the floor of commons on how great international issues are influenced by the desire of American candidates for the White House, congress and governorships to win votes.

Bevin's denunciation of the Roosevelt-Truman Palestine program will lessen our influence in the field of foreign affairs, and this is especially unfortunate in view of the fact that the foreign ministers will meet in Moscow on March 10 to discuss the German and Austrian peace treaties.

Here is the rub, due to Mr. Bevin's breakdown:

Henceforth, whenever an American President makes a private or public plea on behalf of European minorities, Orientals have no real vote in elections, foreign ministers whom Washington seeks to influence will discount and disregard our intervention because of their belief—in fact, their knowledge—that it was designed to corral a few winning votes on this side of the water.

• • •

CHANGED—Secretary of State Marshall leaves for the Moscow conference of foreign ministers next week in a pessimistic mood.

He doubts that the so-called "Big Five"—Russia, Britain, France, the United States and China—can reach any agreement over the problem of formal peace in Germany and Austria, which is the principal issue in the Moscow agenda.

Conditions have changed completely since the last get-together of the five nations' diplomatic representatives. The United States has virtually disarmed, although keeping secret and continuing to manufacture atom bombs far more destructive than those dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki. France is torn by communistic infiltration. England is almost bankrupt and broke.

Our allies in the western organization of capitalistic nations are on the downgrade. Stalin knows that, and, of course, will try to use the Franco-American-British weakness as an argument for his aggressive and expansive demands.

That is the problem which George C. Marshall faces on his first diplomatic mission.

• • •

POLITE—John L. Lewis was scheduled to testify before the senate labor committee last Wednesday on the various bills which have been introduced for imposing drastic controls on unions.

It was to have been a headline performance, but at the last moment the head of the United Mine Workers cancelled the act. For once in his life, he is being polite to the supreme court of the United States, which may hand down a decision on the injunction proceedings against him within a few days.

Said John, off the record, of course, "If they're going to hang me, anyway, why should I stick my head in the noose?"

VIEWS OF OTHERS

WHY NOT GO THERE?

That petition by an unidentified group of Twin Falls men for the annexation of Twin Falls county to Nevada wasn't altogether a joke, it now appears, although accepted as one at first.

The petitioners don't really expect their county to join Nevada but they are serious in protesting the fact that Idaho, loose as she may appear to some, does have a few laws regulating personal conduct, while the state to the south of us doesn't, except such obvious derelictions as banditry and murder. The petitioners charge that flocking of gamblers to places in their town has deprived the citizenry of "the gay fellowship of the supper room and the dancing floor" and they accuse the Republican legislature, which from this distance looks like the wide-openist in years with being in league with "teetotallers, reformed dipsomaniacs and stay at homes."

Meanwhile Nevada, which has all those fleshpots so many of our folks seem to long for, remains the forty-eighth state in population, a long way behind the forty-seventh, with no indication that it will ever catch up.

The dissatisfied gents at Twin Falls could find their hearts' desires down there, and nobody would interfere with them. Why they stay in a state like Idaho when wide-openness is a scant hour's drive away is a mystery. But they avoid Nevada residence and so do about 99½ per cent of the people of the United States. Wickedness is evidently something most folks desire to indulge only occasionally, and away from home. There is no rush of people seeking to live with it every day.—Nampa Free Press.

THE PARTY IS OVER

Five thousand performers in night clubs, hotel floor shows and taverns throughout the country have been thrown out of their jobs in the last two months, and additional thousands have unemployment. This information comes from the office of Matt Shelvey, national director of the American Guild of Variety Artists, an AFL affiliate. Proprietors attribute this development to a nosedive in patronage, but the guild president has a different explanation.

He declares it is caused by the federal luxury tax of 20 per cent levied on night club meals and entertainment. This, he insists, is the real cause of lost patronage. During the lush days of war, when customers flocked in, fortified by large rolls of currency, no one took exception to the tax or the size of the check. Many customers now, according to Shelvey, are out for an evening with only a ten-spot to spend. And when the tax takes two dollars of that, they turn over a new leaf and stay away.

Slump in night club business is general, with east and west coasts hardest hit. Not only are the entertainers out of work, but waiters, cooks and bus boys are being laid off. The party is over for many Americans.—Ellensberg Record.

POT SHOTS

TOOTHY

A six-year old Twin Falls girl the other day lost her first tooth. It pained her considerably to lose the sparkling ivory, but her pains were soothed somewhat when she placed the tooth in a glass of water and the "little fairy" turned it into money during the night.

A few days later she lost another tooth. Again it was turned into money.

Then the six-year old started wiggling her teeth in an effort to lose them so she'd get more money. Her mother cautioned her several times not to try and remove her teeth. Then one afternoon, the six-year old's mother came home and found the little girl armed with a pair of pliers trying to pull one of her dog's teeth so she could cash in on that one.

BIG SIGH

Dear Pots:

Here's a dispatch from the United Press bureau at Boise:

"North and south Idaho literally buried the hatchet last night at a banquet here celebrating the signing of the bill to create a four-year degree-granting liberal arts college at Pocatello."

"Sighing" is right! Bet there are plenty of people sighing now that issue is out of the way after all these years.

RADIO STATIONS, PLEASE NOTE

Dear Pots:

I arise rather early in the morning and switch on the radio hoping to have a little modern music to brighten up the morning. These "breakfast clubs" and "cooking school of the air" programs are wonderful and all that, but is rather exasperating to have some over-expert master of ceremony's voice and forced laughter come blaring out at you from every station.

To make matters worse, you have no other choice but to listen to recipes and banter of cooking schools. A switch of the dial and you get commercials. You think they're changing programs but what do you get? A transcription of the same darned program.

Why can't someone sponsor a morning request program playing what the wives would like to hear? I can work better to a little rhythm without a lot of nonsense.

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

BOB HOPE

There are quite a number of "Mr. and Mrs." radio programs on the air today. These range from the early morning breakfast shows to the programs based on the life of the average family.

Typical of the latter is Fibber McGee and Molly.

Bob Hope

We are living in a different world today. When a young married couple speak of hearing the patter of little feet around the house, you can bet they mean a sponsor.

Family shows save the neighbors a lot of trouble. They don't have to listen through the walls any more. They can tune in to hear the arguments.

I know one young couple who've been engaged for over 10 years. They're waiting for a radio show before they get married.

I understand that Leo Durocher is trying to get a day program.

And of course Artie Shaw is working on a variety show.

But the breakfast programs always intrigue me. The husband and wife act so sweet to one another so early in the morning I can't wait for television to see what they really look like.

I've always wondered what happens in case of divorces. Who gets the custody of the commercial?

And I'm angling for a breakfast program of my own. That way I can lay 'em and eat 'em at the same time.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

Herbert Hoover's return from his second dangerous and wearying mission to other continents since Mr. Truman became President, is the occasion for a discussion of an act of political nastiness now in process of redress. Sen. Albert W. Hawkes of New Jersey, has introduced a bill to restore Mr. Hoover's name to the dam on the Colorado river, originally known as the Hoover dam but designated Boulder dam by Harold Ickes.

Westbrook Pegler

The contrast between the character of Mr. Hoover and those who attempt to degrade him has been plain in all incidents, reflecting his morality and theirs, which provide a basis for comparison. His worst fault during his presidency was his obduracy on the subject of prohibition and popular anger was directed at him, individually.

He was the target of a great popular uprising of indignation. He had been booed by the crowd who shouted "we want beer" at a world series game in Philadelphia, a more ominous note than we who heard it realized at the time.

From election day on to March 4, 1933, when Roosevelt was first inaugurated, Roosevelt and his "brain trust" flippantly refused to cooperate with Hoover. During that interim, Hoover being now a lame duck and a man without a mandate, decay and decline were rapid both at home and abroad. The problems of the presidency were his "baby," in the language of the ribald adventurers, and the calculated purpose was to set him up in the public imagination as a monster who would be finally responsible for any calamities that might befall by inauguration day.

Hoover certainly was hated when he left office and his wise and conscientious counsel went unheard, and his occasional preaching of fundamental morality in public life was sneered away by a people whose heirs may blame them for their susceptibility to phrases and a voice that put them in a spell.

Throughout his term he had scrupulously refrained from exploiting the presidency for his personal enrichment or the profit of members of his family. He had served without pay, but hadn't said so and the secret was kept until a long time after he had vanished.

Although Mr. Hoover was renowned as a man of great ability in many fields, particularly in problems of the distribution of food, he was ignored throughout the war. Mountebanks, drawn to Washington to advertise themselves as "administrators," have since descended again to their natural level of greed and vulgarity, scrambling for easy money in the movie industry, in radio, in the modern racket known as "labor relations" and in the variations of the PAC. Jim Farley, too, another excellent executive, was snubbed in favor of draft dodgers, some of whom were adorned with brass to keep them out of danger. Farley wrote Roosevelt on Pearl Harbor day offering to serve wherever and however he could and, for answer, got a brush-off.

Mr. Hoover has never asked that his name be restored to the dam for which, more than any other man, he was responsible. He is without vanity and so fine are his pride and his dignity that he could not even recognize Ickes who personally changed the name of his dam and wrote Homer Cummings, then the new deal attorney general, in 1935, that reference to "Hoover dam" in government litigation "gives me nothing at all to cheer about."

• • •

Mr. Hoover did not name the dam for himself. It was so named by Ray Lyman Wilbur, as secretary of the interior, in 1930. The Roosevelt dam, the Wilson dam and the Coolidge dam all had been named for incumbents, the Roosevelt in this case having been Theodore, and the Norris dam had been named for Senator Norris while he was in office. The honor to Hoover was particularly appropriate however, because, he had labored faithfully and successfully as secretary of commerce in the early twenties to reconcile old, conflicting interests of the states involved and had participated as an engineer.

In support of his bill, Senator Hawkes proves that on three separate occasions congress designated this work, the Hoover dam.

The change was made, personally, by Ickes in a memorandum in May, 1933, when the campaign to degrade Hoover was at its height.

Later, in the correspondence with Cummings, he said he had "gone to great lengths to give Boulder dam its original and proper name which my predecessor attempted feloniously to take from it, for which praiseworthy and meritorious act I have been roundly condemned by reactionary Republican papers."

Cummings replied that Hoover dam was the title used by congress and in a contract of the government for its construction, and said, "When I see you I shall extend my commiseration in person."

As to the propriety of naming a public work in honor of a living person, there are other precedents. In New York, Fiorello LaGuardia, who has so much in common with Ickes, rejected the name of General MacArthur for the East river drive on the ground that history might give a new judgment on MacArthur.

• • •

MacArthur often was regarded as a political personality by some of the Roosevelt following. It was promptly noted that LaGuardia field had been named for the mayor. This name has been accepted as peculiarly fitting inasmuch as the field was built on a city dump, the flashy buildings have cracked and crumbled and the runways have sagged into the water.

Moreover, Laguardia selected the name of Sara D. Roosevelt, while she was alive, for a series of playgrounds on the east side of New York on land acquired by Jimmy Walker for low cost housing. Sara D. Roosevelt had nothing to do with this or with any other beneficial public work. It was actually built by Robert Moses, another who was ignored by Roosevelt notwithstanding his fine achievements and reputation, because Mr. Moses caught Roosevelt trying to plant his private political secretary, Louis Howe, on the public payroll at $5,000 a year when Roosevelt was out of office, and wouldn't let him get away with it.

After Roosevelt's death, President Truman availed himself of Mr. Hoover's abilities. He is now 72 years old and many years have passed since he could be regarded as a candidate for any office or honors or for public service except with the most patriotic motives.

It would make little difference to Mr. Hoover that his name were restored, but the people have here a chance to make an amend to a great citizen for a vindictive wrong done in their name by one who rather glories in a title self-bestowed, and well-deserved, curmudgeon.

Middle Class In Cuba Hits Cost Squeeze

By HAL BOYLE

HAVANA, March 5 (AP) — Inflationary boom times are enriching Cuba's big sugar planters and creating a delirious heyday for its happy-go-lucky "obrero"—laborers—but its small middle class is being squeezed dry by rising costs.

From the 16th-century arrival of the gold-seeking Spaniards, Cuba has been a country of fantastic contrasts between extreme wealth and barest poverty.

Hurt by Prosperity

Members of the slowly evolving middle class in Cuba feel their nation's war-created sugar prosperity is grinding them back down toward the level of mass indigence.

"An obrero before the war made only about $1 a day," complained one office worker. "Now he gets $5. He has more money in his pockets than he knows what to do with. He lives in the same house he did before, and all he needs to wear is an old shirt and a pair of trousers.

Must Dress Better

"We of the middle class, however, must dress better. Yet our wages have risen much more slowly than those of the field workers. To buy a good pair of American shoes that cost me $8 before the war I now must pay $18. Government clerks got $60 a month five years ago. Now they get only $75 to $80—not nearly enough to make up for the rise in prices. In Cuba, as in the United States, the onetime prestige of the white collar is being outweighed by the financial advantages of overalls.

Magic Valley Social Tid-Bits

GOODING, March 5—Mrs. John E. Hayes, Twin Falls, vice-president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, was special guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Gooding association. Mrs. Hayes told of the 50th anniversary of a meeting in Washington, D. C., of the National Congress of Mothers, forerunner of the present association.

Mrs. Hayes also told of the hot lunch program, started 25 years ago by P.T.A., and said the music is an essential part of education and told of its importance in the work of the association.

Howard Sluder, vice-president, presided for the meeting. Mrs. Harry Edholm, Mrs. William Krahn and Supt. Leigh Ingersoll will serve on the committee for selecting nominees for officers who will be elected March 17.

Attendance prizes went to Mrs. Florence De Thorn's room at the Lincoln school and to Mrs. Severe's room in the junior high.

A letter of resignation from the Rev. Irvin S. Motz, association president, was read. The Rev. Mr. Motz has left Gooding to make his home in Chicago.

Mrs. Fred Blank has been named chairman of the P.T.A. health committee.

Discussion of the Gooding schools hot lunch program took up part of the meeting, and Superintendent Ingersoll told of extra precautions taken in regard to driving school buses now that the new streamliner goes through Gooding about the time the buses cross the railroad tracks.

Musical selections were presented by Opal Hansen, Deloris Knight, Matha Ann Krahn, Dennis Tate and Arnold Bahr. Donald Stroh, music director, accompanied some of the numbers.

Hostess group consisted of members of the Catholic Women's league, including Mrs. Hannah Snyder, Mrs. Bryon Nelson, Mrs. Lewis Canine, Mrs. Frank Giese, Mrs. Joe Acorda, Rosie Silman, Mrs. Mary Solomon, and Mrs. Orville Bragg.

Twentieth Century Club

"Women should accept their responsibility to the young children of today and assure them a place in college rather than a place in an army at war when they reach maturity," Mrs. John E. Hayes told members of the Twentieth Century club at a luncheon meeting at the Park hotel recently. Mrs. Hayes discussed "Tomorrow Begins Today," at the meeting.

She pointed out that one tangible way we may help in bringing about lasting peace is for each woman to make a vow not to classify people by color, race or religion, and to learn to realize the individual worth of every person we contact.

"We likewise owe our children our best efforts in attempting to preserve the home as the basic institution in our society," Mrs. Hayes said. She called attention to the threat of increasing divorce rate and the declining birth rate.

Mrs. A. A. Arnold, Kimberly, accompanied by Mrs. O. P. Duvall, presented vocal selections. Mrs. Claude Detweiler was in charge of the musical program. In the receiving line were Mrs. R. W. Carpenter, Mrs. Cora Schroeder, Mrs. A. S. Henson, Mrs. V. C. Ballantyne and Mrs. T. S. Nicholson.

Decorations featured a St. Patrick theme. Daffodils and pussy willows formed the centerpiece. Dolls dressed in green costumes, green harps and shamrocks, completed the table appointments.

In charge of decorations were Mrs. A. C. Garner, chairman, Mrs. A. S. Bockwitz and W. S. Packard. Mrs. Stanley Phillips, president, conducted the business meeting. Members voted a donation to the Red Cross. The club will sponsor a rummage sale on March 28 and 29.

The Wayside club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sadie Jones. Mrs. Carrie Jones and Mrs. Bertha Maxwell were the hostesses.

Guests were Mrs. Hattie Bruns, Mrs. John Holcomb, Mrs. Wayne DeBoard, Mrs. Bob Niven, and Mrs. Maxine McClenahy.

Mrs. Elpha Given reported that 86 garments were cut out and that all these articles had been taken out by members to be made.

She requested members who had completed their articles, to leave them with Mrs. Pearl Norris. Members voted to donate $5 to the Red Cross.

Members accepted the invitation of the Good Will club to be their guests on April 9 at the home of Mrs. Fay Hann. Mrs. A. E. Gray won the white elephant. Florence Schultz, Twin Falls county home demonstration agent, presented a pressure sauce pan demonstration. Members will meet again April 1 at the home of Mrs. Ethel Moore, 1306 Maple street.

"There are probably more than 14 million children under six years of age in the United States. These youngsters are America's greatest resource and each one of them is precious, according to Mrs. L. L. Johnson, Glenns Ferry, state chairman of pre-school service, who spoke at the pre-school PTA meeting Tuesday evening at the Idaho Power company auditorium.

The cause of young children needs to be championed, fearlessly and clearly by all adults able to see, care, and act for their good and protection, Mrs. Johnson added.

Emphasis was placed on two immediate needs including understanding of the trends to extend educational services downward, and a better understanding of the purpose, value, and program of nursery schools and kindergartens, Mrs. R. M. Whitesides presided at the meeting and introduced Mrs. John E. Hayes, who spoke on "The Importance of the Pre-School Years."

"It takes skill to be a good mother today, because there is more competitive influence than in any generation. There is so much of confusion, so much of violence and differences. Children are sensitive to them. Between parents there must be harmony to make for security for the child, Mrs. John Hayes said. She emphasized that this is the most important age to be a mother.

Colleen Bruce presented accordion solos. Installation ceremonies were conducted by Mrs. R. J. Hawes. Installed were Mrs. L. L. Niccum, president; Mrs. L. Gillespie, vice-president; Mrs. James Horne, secretary, and Mrs. H. S. Post, treasurer.

Mrs. Whitesides turned the meeting over to Mrs. Niccum who read the by-laws and introduced committee chairmen.

Committee chairmen include historian, Mrs. P. B. Johnston, jr.; publicity, Mrs. John H. Perrine; hospitality, Mrs. W. J. H. Sanger; PTA magazines, Mrs. R. J. Hawes; radio, Mrs. Jack Holland; kindergarten, Mrs. Sidney Knight; mothers' class, Mrs. Kenneth Given. Refreshments were served and Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. Hayes poured.

Free Diagnosis of Deafness

New "Hearing-Lenses" To Be Demonstrated At Clinic in Twin Falls

J. E. Loughrey, expert Acoustican will be in Twin Falls, Friday, March 7, to offer free diagnosis to people who are hard of hearing, at the Rogerson Hotel, from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Loughrey will employ the new Acousticon "speech-hearing test" in diagnosing the various conditions of deafness which confront him. This test, he said is based upon the latest scientific research in the field of sound, and has been perfected during the war years.

"New Hearing Lenses" Here

"One of the most amazing scientific discoveries made during the war," said Loughrey, "resulted in a development called 'Hearing Lenses' ..... actual lenses which may be fitted to the ear just like glasses are fitted to the eyes, to correct the particular type of defective hearing in each individual."

Loughrey will offer a free demonstration of these new "lenses" during his clinic. He pointed out that they are now available for practical use, having been developed by America's oldest manufacturer of hearing aids, the Acousticon company. Their most recent use has been perfected in the new Acousticon "Super-Power" Unipac.

It was emphasized that Loughrey's demonstration and hearing tests demand absolutely no obligation on the part of people who attend. He also suggested that those unable to come to the Rogerson Hotel may phone him at the hotel, and that he would provide private appointments at individual homes of as many as possible. Adv.

Last 30-Second Rally Gives Acequia First District Cage Crown

PAUL MC CLOY
. . . former state mile record-holder who coached Acequia Indians to first district cage title.

KIMBERLY, March 5 — With Coach Paul McCloy, former Rupert state mile record-holder and 1945 Utah State substitute fullback, at the helm, the Acequia Indians defeated Heyburn, 47-42, in an overtime struggle here last night and won the first class B district basketball championship in the history of the school. They also won at the same time the Minic Cassia sub-district championship, for which the two Minidoka county schools had tied a week ago in the tournament at Rupert and which they agreed to play on the line in the larger cage event.

But to achieve the triumph over Coach Ted Hanks' plucky little team, the Indians had to put on a garrison finish to carry the game into overtime and win. The Panthers had Acequia down, 9-3, at the conclusion of the first quarter, 19-12 at the half and were in front, 31-23, after three frames.

With only 30 seconds of the regulation game remaining, the Indians were still trailing by two points. Three shots were made thereafter, one by Hess that tied the score at 38-38, a second by Ferrin to place Acquia in front for the first time and a third—from about 15 feet out just as the final whistle was sounded—by Holmes that knotted the count again and sent the game into overtime.

Both the Acequia and Heyburn players, thinking that the shot by Holmes had come after the official end of the game, had gone to their dressing room but timer Clifford Jones ruled the ball was in the air at the game's termination. The players were called back and the contest resumed.

Capt. Frank Stroud of the Indians then took charge of the situation and in rapid succession scored two field goals, the first on the rebound of his own missed free throw. Wayne Wilske finished up the Acequia scoring with a field goal and a free throw. Near the end Capt. Lidell Handy counted a field goal for Heyburn.

Although Heyburn made good on 10 free throws, the Panthers also missed 15 shots that figured bitterly in the final result for Coach Hanks' lads.

Frank Uriguen, who had scored 24 points in an earlier game, came up with 16 for Heyburn last night. Ferrin and Stroud each scored 13 points for Acequia.

Following the game Kimberly Principal J. B. Priddey, the tournament manager, presented trophies to the winner and runner-up. Both will go to the southern Idaho tournament in Pocatello.

Walcott Wins Easy Victory Over Negro Foe

MIAMI, Fla., March 5 (AP)—Jersey Joe Walcott, Camden, N. J., won an easy 10-round decision over Elmer (Violent) Ray, Hastings, Fla., before a crowd of 8,977 in the Orange bowl here last night.

Ray went down in the first, third and fourth but bounded back before the count could start.

Ray, prior to the fight, had been unbeaten for two years and had won 50 of his last 51 fights by knockouts. Ray won a decision from Walcott last November in Madison Square garden, and in an earlier meeting, Walcott was knocked out by the Hastings Negro.

It was announced from the ring that the winner would seek a fight with world heavyweight Joe Louis, probably in June.

Simplots Lose in Thriller

DENVER, March 5 (AP) — The Sacramento Senators, snowed under in the first half, pulled the hottest comeback of the American basketball league tournament last night as they caught fire in the last two periods, to stun the Idaho Simplots, 52-45.

The Simplots did some of the most spectacular shooting of the Western AAU league's annual meeting in running up a 21-9 lead over Sacramento in the first quarter and the Idahoans held the advantage through the second frame as the Senators consistently missed their shots by a mile. The Simplots were out in front at the half 30-19.

But Sacramento was an amazingly different team after the rest period. Gordon Garston and Marvin Rickert quickly sank them into a 31-30 lead and the Senators threw out an airtight defense that allowed the Simplots only three points in the third quarter.

Raise in Fish, Game License Fees Enacted

BOISE, March 5 (AP)—State hunting and fishing license fees would be materially increased under provisions of a bill approved 33-0 by the Idaho house Tuesday. The measure now goes to the senate.

Proposed increases included: Resident fish and game licenses, from $2 to $2 for fishing and $2 for hunting or $3 combined; non-resident fish and game, from $50 for one specie of big game plus an additional $25 for each additional specie; non-resident bird, from $10 to $20; non-resident fish (season), from $5 to $10; non-resident fish (10 day), present $2 to $5 for five days.

Cougars Beat Nampa, 33-27

NAMPA, March 5 (AP)—The Caldwell Cougars, who were able to win only one conference game during the regular season, provided a major upset here last night by downing the favored Nampa Bulldogs, 33-27, in the first round of the district three class B basketball tournament. The Bulldogs held three easy wins over the Cougars during the past season.

The Weiser Wolverines threw a scare into the Meridian Warriors in the first game of the tourney, but the Warriors pulled through with a 25-24 victory to get past the first round. In the other game, Emmett won from Payette, 35-29.

Buhl, Rupert, Gooding, Bruins Win District Cage Tourney Opening Tilts

Buhl, Rupert, Gooding Bruins Win A Battles

While the South Central Idaho Athletic association's class B tournament was coming to an end with Acequia's 47-42 victory over Heyburn in the final game at Kimberly, the district's second tournament—the class A at Twin Falls—got underway Tuesday. First game in the latter event saw Buhl defeat Burley, 54-46, in a mild upset; Rupert, the defending champion, coming through as expected with a 47-26 triumph over Jerome; Gooding winning over Filer, 53-25, and Twin Falls downing Oakley, 44-21.

Today at 2 p.m., Burley opposed Jerome; at 3:30 p.m., Filer will meet Oakley; at 7:30 p.m., Buhl will tangle with Rupert and at 9 p.m., Twin Falls is scheduled to battle Gooding.

Buhl's Under-Basket Passing Features in Class A Openers

A mild upset, by a 54-46 count, achieved by Coach Grant Maughan's Buhl Indians over Coach Rulon Budge's always tough Burley Bobcats featured the opening of the district class A basketball tournament here yesterday. The other contests went according to form with Coach George Hays' defending champions, the Rupert Pirates, winning from Coach Pete Taylor's Jerome Indians, 47-26; Coach Elmer Parke's Gooding Senators winning from Coach Maurice Clayton's Filer Wildcats, 53-25, and Coach J. S. "Monk" Halliday's Bruins looking better than ever this season in triumphing over Coach Howard Stone's Oakley Hornets, 44-21.

* * * *

The Buhl-Burley game, which opened the tournament, was by far the best of the four played. The teams started at a furious pace with the Indians taking an early lead which they never relinquished. The Indians led, 16-13, at the end of the first quarter, 28-22 at the half and 39-30 after three periods.

Bobcats Get Close

Midway of the final quarter, the Bobcats pulled to within two points of the Indians but this was the signal for Coach Maughan's lads to put on a dazzling underthe-basket passing offensive that brought the Indians three baskets in succession.

A substitute, Buckendorf, figured largely in the Buhl attack. He registered seven field goals and three free throws for 17 points, while Hopkins, the team's star center, came up with five field goals and four free throws for 14 points. The Burley leader was Clark, who had five field goals and two free throws for 11 points.

Fifty-two fouls were called in the game by referee Ernie Craner and Bill Powers. While the two teams registered 22 field goals, they combined in missing 30.

Although badly off form according to their followers, the Pirates had little trouble with Jerome. They went in front, 14-5, in the first quarter, led, 27-15, at the half, and had a 37-18 advantage after three periods. The Pirates' 20 field goals were scattered among eight players.

Rogers Paces Solons

Paced by Vernon Rogers, the Big Seven's top scorer, and little guard Schara, the Gooding Senators ran roughshod over Filer in the first game of the evening. Rogers tallied seven field goals and a free throw for 15 points and Schara countered six field goals and a pair of charity shots.

Gooding got an early lead when Rogers dumped a set-up and held a 23 to 9 lead at halftime. The Gooding second-stringers played the third period and outscored the Wildcats six points to four. The losers matched baskets with the Senator first-stringers for half the last period, but wilted in the last minutes.

Stokeberry paced the Filer scorers with 10 points.

Quick baskets by Ringwood, Snyder, Stanger and Livingston with only four minutes to play in the first half gave the Twin Falls Bruins a lead they never relinquished. The Hornets and the Bruins had matched baskets until that time, but the Twin Falls team was never headed.

Oakley jumped into an early lead and had an 8-5 margin at the end of the first period. The Bruins were trailing 12 to 10 when they spurted to a 23-15 lead at the intermission. Twin Falls held the Hornets to six points in the last half while they piled on 21. Oakley had beaten Twin Falls twice in league play.

Ringwood with 11 points and Drexel Livingston with 10 paced the Bruin scorers. Page scored 8 for the loacrs.

Coach Bruins made 24 fouls, four of them going out on five personals.

Classy Boxers Beat Jerome's Two Stars

Back from the Golden Gloves tournament of champions in Chicago, where he was in charge of the Twin Falls' northwest tournament team, Doug Bean, Legion athletic officer, reported that the two boxers who eliminated Jerome stars, featherweight Duane Silcock and George Westfall, had reached the semi-final round of the amateur fistic extravaganza.

"This means," said Bean, "that it really took good boys to put our lads out of the running."

The boxers still in the tournament are Gerald Labrot, Gary, Ind., who won from Silcock, and Ralph Jones, Springfield, Ill., the winner over Westfall.

Bean said that boxing was by no means ended for the season in Twin Falls. He is now preparing to accept a challenge from the Ogden district Golden Gloves champions for home-and-home matches with the local northwest titleholders. These bouts will be staged later this month or may be postponed until the open air season.

The Legion officer said that Arch Ward, famous Chicago Tribune sports editor who originated the Tournament of Champions, praised the boxers from Twin Falls and said that he would welcome back a team from this city next year. He also sent his regards to George P. Redmond, sports editor of the Times-News.

The hardest blows suffered by the local team were the disqualifications of lightweight Lyman Holloway and light heavy Lyle Taylor, one because of a fever and the other because of an old injury.

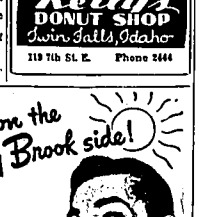

Westfall was far below his usual form. He put up a game battle in his second scrap, but his punches didn't carry their customary power. Alec Kinsfather and Hank Mitani, Jerome, were outpointed by more experienced boxers. Jay Beaumont, 17 year old Vancouver youngster, easily won his first fight but tired in his second engagement and lost on a split decision.

All except Holloway and Taylor probably will be in the running next year. Taylor probably will not fight again and Holloway intends to turn pro.

Westfall drove home a new Pontiac and Holloway, Silcock and Mitani came with him. Frank Stanger and S. K. Mattson, the trainers, brought Taylor and Kinsfather home by car. They returned by St. Louis in order to see as much of the midwest as possible.

NEW YORK, March 5 (AP)—The stock market put on one of its best rallies of the past month today with leaders closing fractions to around 3 points higher. Most issues closed near the day's best level. Transfers totaled around 1,000,000 shares.

Eastman Kodak, which climbed on stock split news yesterday, moved against the trend today, closing off 3 at 243½.

Prominent gainers included U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, General Motors, Norfolk & Western, Southern Railway, Southern Pacific, Armour, Cudahy, American Airlines, American Woolen, International Harvester, Dow Chemical, U.S. Gypsum, Anaconda, Kennecott, Allied Stores (on a boosted dividend) and Montgomery Ward.

Bidding sentiment was credited by commission houses to believe that after three declining weeks the market was technically overdue for a turn-around.

Bonds were narrow.

Grain

CHICAGO, March 5 (AP)—A strong short-covering movement got underway in oats on the board of trade today and strength in this grain soon spread to other pits.

Both oats and wheat were sharply higher, but corn tended to lag. The March oats contract was up 8 cents, the daily limit, at one time, moving to a new seasonal high.

May wheat also was up around 5 cents at times. Strength in wheat was based on further pessimistic reports concerning the world crop.

Wheat finished 3¾-5¾c higher, March $2.38; corn was 1⅝-2⅞c higher, March $1.56¼-1.56½, and oats 3½ to 6 cents higher, March 93½c.

Anti-Bootleg Bill Seeks to Limit Liquor

BOISE, March 5 (AP)—Under suspension of the rules, the senate passed last night what Sen. Carl Irwin, R., Twin Falls, called a "rum runners bill."

The measure would limit to two in possession of any person the number of bottles of liquor not bearing the seal issued by the Idaho state liquor dispensary.

Irwin said it was to stop "bootlegging" and shipment of large quantities of illegal liquor into the state. He said the bill was an outgrowth of a current legislative investigation "into the state's liquor situation."

RESULT OF RAIDS HERE

The "rum runners bill" passed under suspension of the rules in the state senate yesterday was the outgrowth of two developments in the liquor situation in Twin Falls county.

Raids by state and county law enforcement officers turned up a number of state liquor stamps and later purchases were made at the state liquor store here of whisky without the state labels.

Sen. Carl Irwin, R., Twin Falls, was named chairman of a joint senate-house committee to investigate the disappearance of the stamps from the state liquor store.

'Teen-Age Youth Held for Thefts At Local Stores

A teen-age youth was being questioned by police Wednesday following his arrest at 11 p. m. Tuesday in Stuart Morrison's tire store, 206 Fourth avenue west, when officers investigated a break-in. A window had been opened by breaking the glass and unlatching it.

Officers on patrol noticed the store had been broken into. They found the place ransacked and the youth hiding in a stack of tires. Apparently nothing was missing. About $75 in cash was intact.

A package of chewing gum was stolen in a service station break-in the same night and two fountain pens were taken from a garage the night before.

The gum was stolen from Woodlawn Service station, 251 Fourth avenue south, after entry had been gained by breaking a window and crawling through the opening.

The pair of fountain pens seemed to be the only loss from Chaney Motor company, 701 Main avenue east, when the building was entered through a window apparently left unlocked.

Red Cross Drive Reaches Quarter Of $11,075 Quota

American Red Cross donations turned in at the fund-raising headquarters in the Idaho Power company sales room Wednesday noon totaled approximately 25 per cent of the $11,075 quota. Jack Carson, publicity chairman, said about $2,700 had been brought in by solicitors.

"Workers who have gone out have met with good response from their contacts," Carson said. He indicated that an apparent slackening in drive returns probably was due more to a lack of workers getting out than of a lack of response from the public.

Serving in the Idaho Power company headquarters are Mrs. Fred Easterbrook, from 9 a. m. to noon; Carson, from noon to 3 p. m.; and Catherine Roache, from 3 p. m. to 5 p. m.

Prof Predicts Odorized Ads In Newspaper

NORMAN, Okla., March 5 (AP)—Don't be too astonished if the butcher's advertisement in your daily newspaper emits the sizzling scent of a sirloin steak and mingles with the odor of frying onions from the grocer's display on the opposite page.

Perhap that aromatic aroma of coffee from the evening paper will keep you awake at night.

Dr. Ralph Bienfang, professor of pharmacy at the University of Oklahoma, says odoriferous advertising may be the next step—after color—in attracting customers.

Bienfang, considered one of the world's foremost authority on odors, already is working on his first commercial assignment of that kind—an order from a San Diego restaurateur who wants the pictures of meat courses on his advertising blotters to smell just like the real dishes.

Bienfang says perfumes have been used in such advertising, but that making food odors involves an entirely different process.

"It's not impossible to duplicate any food odor," Bienfang pointed out. "Of course there are certain physical limitations, but I bet I could whip up a chili odor that would have you reaching for a cracker and a spoon.

"You could have a blotter in the form of a bowl. If a person held it in his hands for a few seconds, he not only would have the chili smell, but the heat and moisture which go with such a dish."

Bienfang has just completed work on human odors for experimental use as a deer repellent. Several eastern states, complaining of deer destroying farm crops, have requested the repellent.

Court Sustains Demurrer Filed In Damage Case

Demurrer of William R. Woller and the General Casualty company of America to the $701.25 damage suit of Elsie V. Drysdale was sustained in district court by Judge James W. Porter in an order dated Feb. 22.

Judge Porter ordered the case dismissed with prejudice.

Mrs. Drysdale's complaint filed Nov. 23, 1946, had charged that Woller, in probating the estate of her deceased son, Thomas A. Anderson, had ignored her and caused the whole estate to be distributed to the widow. Mrs. Drysdale complained her son's property was not community property and she was therefore entitled to half.

Local Man Gets Braille Machine From Lions Club

A pocket braille writer was presented to J. Hill by the Lions club at its Wednesday meeting. The lightweight machine can be carried in the pocket and makes it possible to take braille notes as freely and easily as ordinary notes with a pencil and pad.

A quick clean-up of American Red Cross solicitations was urged by Victor Fliflet, club drive chairman. He asked that contacts be completed and all funds turned in by the end of the week.

Wednesday's program consisted of songs by Russ Pike who accompanied himself on the guitar. Dr. Gordon R. Tobin was program chairman.

Norman Magansen was inducted into the club and presented with a Lions pin by Dick Serpa, deputy district governor.

Dave Jensen, Burley Lions member, was a guest of the club.

Methodist Men To Hear Bishop Here March 19

Preliminary arrangements are being made for the southern Idaho Bishop's dinner March 19 under auspices of the Methodist Men's club, President Hugh Nelson announced Wednesday.

Bishop Bruce R. Baxter, Portland, Ore., resident bishop for Idaho, Washington, Oregon and the territories of Alaska and Hawaii will be the featured speaker at the event for men of all Methodist churches in southern Idaho. A similar and highly successful event of this nature was held last year, with 250 persons attending.

The gathering, to be held in the church basement, will take the place of the regular monthly meeting, which would have been held Tuesday night.

Mrs. Baxter will accompany Bishop Baxter, and she will be entertained by wives of Methodist ministers in this section.

New Homes Set For Twin Falls, Permits Reveal

Permission to build two new homes, erect an addition to another, and move a dwelling into the city was sought in four building applications filed with the city clerk Wednesday.

Nelton Anderson, 465 Heyburn avenue, asked the city's approval for the raising of two new, 20 by 30, frame, $3,000 homes in the 300 block of Van Buren street.

C. A. Graybill, 227 Quincy street, plans an 18 by 22 frame addition to his dwelling. He estimated the project would cost $1,000.

Mrs. W. R. Miller, 322 Jackson street, will move a 16 by 32, frame dwelling from outside the city to the 300 block of Jackson street at a cost of $1,000 if the city council allows her application.

A building permit was filed Tuesday at the city hall by C. R. Tucker for the construction of a 12 by 14 shingle structure to cover a walk-in cold storage unit used in connection with his drive-in market at 852 Main avenue north. Estimated cost of the structure is $400.

A 50 by 36, $15,000 duplex apartment will be constructed from cinder blocks on three lots in the 100 block of Taylor street following the approval of Everett A. Rice's building permit application filed late Monday.

March of Dimes Drive Goes Over Goal of $8,000

Twin Falls county went over the top on its "march of dimes" drive, County Chairman Larry Laughridge announced Tuesday as final figures were compiled.

The drive netted $8,019.87, Laughridge said after late returns from several outlying communities had been tabulated. Goal for the drive was set at $8,000.

Laughridge said Twin Falls city had raised nearly 75 per cent of the total.

Driving Through Stop Sign Costly

Vernon Herzinger, 20, Buhl, was fined $25 and assessed $3 costs by Judge J. O. Pumphrey Wednesday. He was charged with driving through a stop sign Tuesday at Blue Lakes avenue and Main avenue east in a complaint signed by A. E. Perkins, state police officer.

Parking in space reserved for taxicabs brought a $5 fine and a charge of $3 costs against Tom Lynott, 30, Salt Lake City.

Cars Damaged in Burley Accident

BURLEY, March 5 — Two cars collided at 9 p. m. Saturday just east of Burley in what sheriff's officers reported was an unavoidable accident.

Jerry Burgess, driving a 1935 Ford, pulled out to the side of the highway to avoid being hit by a speeding auto, when a car, driven by Lyle Burton, Rupert, ran into the rear end of the Burgess car. The Burgess car was damaged slightly, but the Burton car, a 1941 Studebaker, was damaged to the extent of $200. No one was injured.

Minidoka Man Fined For Reckless Driving

HAILEY, March 5—Frank Jones, Minidoka county, was fined $50 and costs by Probate Judge George A. McLeod when he appeared in court on a charge of reckless driving.

He was arrested by State Patrolman James Leichliter Sunday on highway 93 one-half mile north of Hailey.

Mother Given Child In Burley Divorce

BURLEY, March 5—Ruby P. David was granted a divorce from Wilford L. Davis in district court last week. The plaintiff received custody of one minor child and $50 a month for support.

William A. Davidson, jr., has filed suit in district court against Maryetta Davidson and Edward Davidson for recovery of personal property the plaintiff claims belongs to him. He seeks restoration of property held at a ranch near Oakley or $1,000 payment for the property.

Glenns Ferry School Leader Resigns Post

GLENNS FERRY, March 5—Lee R. Ellis, superintendent of schools in Glenns Ferry since last fall, has tendered his resignation to the school board. The resignation is effective at the end of the school term.

L. A. Mooney, chairman of the board, said no successor to Ellis has been named yet.

Fujiyama, highest peak in Japan, has been an extinct volcano for many years.

Gooding Gets Grade School Plan Finances

said the building would cost "less than $200,000."

Permits Progress

Robertson said the federal works agency's approval of the Gooding request would mean that plans would go ahead for an architect to draw up plans for the proposed building.

Set up by the reconversion act of 1944 a state apportionment of $314,585 was alloted to Idaho for planning funds. Magic Valley taxing units have taken advantage of the program designed to eliminate hasty and careless planning of public works and have more than $1,000,000 in public works being planned.

Wool Men Urge 'Proper' Tariff

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP) — The National Wool Growers association today advocated a "proper" tariff on wool.

Sylvan J. Pauly, Deer Lodge, Mont., association president, told an agriculture subcommittee that import quotas proposed in several pending bills should be considered only temporary measures until "proper" tariff protection is obtained.

He testified after Rep. Barrett, R., Wyo., told the committee that Britain's need for American dollars may drive the American wool industry out of business unless wool imports are limited.

Barrett said that Great Britain—which markets all wool produced in the British empire—has a stockpile of approximately five billion pounds. Thus far, he said, it has met within 48 hours any price drop in this country.

Cotton Exchange Walkout Settled

NEW YORK, March 5 (UP)—The New York cotton exchange, largest in the world, opened its doors again today after settlement of the unprecedented one-day strike of 103 employes.

Settlement of the dispute was announced late last night by Arthur Meyer, chairman of the state mediation board, who said the exchange would reopen today after yesterday's closing, the first time a strike had closed a commodity or exchange market in Wall street.

The settlement provides that employes will get a bonus to be determined by the number of bales of cotton sold in a day, similar to a bonus formula used on the stock exchange.

Other contract provisions include a 15 per cent wage increase, a union shop, job classification, dues check-off and a 40-hour week for building service employes.

Report Predicts Lumber Increase

WASHINGTON, March 5 (UP) — The commerce department's lumber survey committee predicted today there will be enough lumber this year to meet demands for new housing.

The committee reported that mill stocks increased 19 per cent in 1946 while stocks of retail yards rose 44 per cent.

It believed the lumber market would be stabilized this year.

RE-ENTERS HOSPITAL

GLENNS FERRY, March 5—The Rev. George Wilson, Nazarene minister here, has reentered the Nampa hospital. He returned home recently after a major operation performed there.

ACCEPTS CALL

JEROME, March 5—The Rev. Milton J. Nauss, son of the Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Nauss, has accepted a call to be resident pastor at Princeton, N. J.

Bandy Elected Labor Group's New Chairman

Floyd Bandy was elected chairman of the local district committee of the Twin Falls County Labor Sponsoring association at a meeting Tuesday night in the courthouse jury room. As chairman, he is automatically a member of the association's board of directors. Elected as members of the Twin Falls district committee were Oliver Kuykendall and Roger Lewis.

C. J. Bellwood, extension service labor specialist, presented the association's financial report and outlined the organization's plans for the coming year. He said that throughout the state farmers are requesting more Mexican laborers than last year in view of anticipated larger acreages of sugar beets. Former chairman Ben O'Harrow presided at the meeting.

Bandy is the second district chairman to be elected this year. A few days ago, Milton Lierman was elected chairman of the Filer district. A meeting to name the chairman of the Kimberly district has been postponed until Thursday, and the Murtaugh district meeting will be held Friday. Both meetings will be held in the high schools of the respective communities. Dates have not yet been set for the Buhl and Castleford meetings.

Hearing Waived on Check Charge Here

Appearing before Justice of the Peace J. O. Pumphrey two days before the scheduled time, Donald G. Kaercher, 23, waived a preliminary hearing on charges of cashing a worthless check amounting to $103.40 Feb. 17 at an O. P. Skaggs store here. Upon Kaercher's waiver, the case was bound over to district court.

Kaercher was employed as an automobile bodyman and painter here. He is married and has two small children. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Kaercher, route 2, Buhl.

"Clean up" Bill Given to House

BOISE, March 5 (AP)—The traditional "clean up" bill—appropriating funds to cover post-legislative expenses and usually among the last to be introduced—was submitted to the house of representatives last night by the appropriations committee.

The measure authorizes the expenditure of $25,000 for salaries and expenses for attaches and clerks to complete clerical work and other duties after the 29th session adjourns.

Lieut. Gov. Donald S. Whitehead, senate president, and Rep. Barney Clavin, R., Twin Falls, speaker of the house, will direct the windup activities.

Legion to Have Party March 19 On Anniversary

Auxiliary of the Twin Falls American Legion post will entertain Legionnaires and their guests at a party March 19 in commemoration of the 28th national anniversary of the veterans' organization. The Legion hall lounge, recently redecorated at a cost of $3,500, will be officially opened on this occasion, Doug Bean, public relations director, announced following a meeting Tuesday night.

Improvements in the 30 by 80-foot lounge included an imported mahogany bar, carpeted floors, mirror-paneled walls and pastel lighting. The ballroom floor and walls have also been refinished.

Quinten Harral, chairman of the veterans' village committee, reported that 80 veterans and their families are now housed in the project. The local post's membership passed the 500 mark Monday, according to Ray Robbins, membership chairman, and Max Brown reported on veterans' housing.

RECEIVES PROMOTION

JEROME, March 5—Roderick W. Overfield, Jerome, has been promoted to sergeant. He is now stationed with the army air forces at Seattle, Wash.

Conservation Of Soil Aired By PMA Head

A. V. McCormick, Boise, state chairman of the Production Marketing Association committee, conferred with nearly 40 Twin Falls county and community chairmen Tuesday afternoon in the Idaho Power auditorium. Discussion centered around plans for the year, with particular emphasis on soil conservation measures.

McCormick pointed out that farmers are becoming increasingly conservation-minded, recognizing the need to cut down losses from erosion and to keep their land productive. Potato allotments were also discussed at the meeting.

Accompanying McCormick here were Les Renstrom, Boise, head of the audit section of the state PMA office; and Arthur Cummins, Washington, D. C., official of the western PMA region, who reminded farmers that March 15 is the deadline to file applications for wheat crop insurance.

The three officials will hold similar meetings with county and community chairmen in other Magic Valley counties this week. Their schedule includes Burley today, Rupert on Thursday, Jerome on Friday and Hailey on Saturday.

Eleanor Pauses

POCATELLO, March 5 (AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt stopped here briefly last night on her way to Portland, Ore., where she will make an address tonight at Reed college.

The former first lady walked to the still active USO hut adjoining the passenger depot and chatted a few minutes with the hostess, Mrs. O. R. Baum. What did they talk about? The weather, said Mrs. Baum. Mrs. Roosevelt's comment: "It's nice here."

Staff Selected for Murtaugh's Paper

MURTAUGH, March 5 — Staff members for the high school paper, "El-Eco," for the second semester have been announced.

Frank Morrison will be editor-in-chief; Cecil Adamson, assistant editor; Mary Lee Barton, make-up editor; Dick Barkes, art editor; Dick Tolman, editorial editor; Arlene Hoffman and Christine Weidenman, reporters; Cliff Perkins, sports editor; Phil Johnson, humor; Orville Knighton, gossip; Frances Hill, Oril Tolman, Lois Doolin and Betty Wright, typists; Ralph Lewis, advertising.

Vesta Ward and Joyce Carlson are mimeograph operators and E. H. Ragland is faculty adviser.

College

BOISE, March 5 (AP) — Gov. C. A. Robins has signed into law two bills renaming state normal schools at Lewiston and Albion.

The Lewiston school was retitled Northern Idaho College of Education while the Albion institution was renamed Southern Idaho College of Education.

River Sojourner Appears Before Laymen's Parley

One of eight men who participated in a trip down the Salmon river last fall, Dr. Harold F. Holsinger, Wendell, will show pictures and lecture on the experience at 7:30 p. m. Monday at the Presbyterian church parlors during a semi-monthly meeting of the Interchurch Laymen's association.

Chief among his tales will be of the Russian hermit whose only contact with the outside world is with adventurers down "the River of No Return," according to Garth O. Reid, president of the association. Dr. Holsinger will be introduced by Vern Mellon, program chairman, of the Church of the Brethren.

All men of Christian faith are eligible to belong to the laymen's organization, Reid said. Constitutional purpose of the group is to stimulate cooperation in Christian projects for the entire community.

A business meeting will follow the program which will also include Eileen Terry, vocalist; Willetta Warberg, pianist, and community singing. Refreshments will be served.

U. S. Steel Firm Buys Utah Town

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP) — Sen. Elbert D. Thomas, D., Utah, said today the war assets administration has approved sale of the town of Dragerton, Utah, to the United States Steel corporation.

He understood the price was $1,500,000.

U. S. Steel was high bidder when the town was offered for sale at Salt Lake City Feb. 14. The town was built by the government to house workers in the coal mines which supply the Geneva, Utah, steel plant, which the steel company operated during the war and purchased from the government about a year ago.

Walther League Slates Breakfast Easter Morning

An Easter breakfast following sunrise services April 6, was scheduled at a meeting Monday of the senior Walther league of the Immanuel Lutheran church. President Melvin Wellhousen appointed the following committee on arrangements: Marie Thieme, chairman, Dale Taute, Hattie Boldenow and Estel Mein.

A guest at the gathering was Cadet Nurse Margarete Sievers, Salt Lake General hospital, Salt Lake City.

Following the Easter service the Leaguers will arrange to participate in a youth service program. No meetings will be held March 17 or 31.

Other appointments by Wellhousen included the nominating committee for 1947-48 officers: Keith Steigemeier, chairman; Louise Putzier, Henry Sievers, Lovila Neumann and Monroe Dieter; and the entertainment and refreshment committee: Miss Putzier, Miss Boldenow, Victor Lierman and Bernard Hoffman. Captain of the baseball team is Steigemeier and co-captain is Kenneth Lierman.

Resort Firm Files

BOISE, March 5 (AP)—Articles of incorporation today were on file with the secretary of state for the Pitburgh Club Investment company, Inc., of Idaho Falls. The firm is capitalized for $250,000 and is authorized to construct a resort for recreation, vacation and tourist trade. Incorporators are Harold H. Harvey, Buhl; and Laton R. Howell and Albert H. Dent, both of Idaho Falls.
